CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Abstract submission for the World Non-Communicable Diseases Congress 2023 (WNCD 2023) is open! View submission information and guidelines on the WNCD23 Abstract page. WNCD 2023 takes place June 25 to 30, 2023 both virtually and in-person at the Metro Toronto Convention Centre in Toronto, Canada.

WNCD 2023 will feature full and half day preconference symposiums and workshops, plenary sessions, concurrent paper sessions, poster presentations, exhibits, and valuable networking time.

Submit your Abstract(s)

The Congress theme is 'Equitable and Sustainable Health for All' and the program has been organized into the following six sub themes:

1. Reducing inequalities in the prevalence, risk factors and conditions, diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation or management of NCDs across socio-economic status, cultures, races, geographic regions, genders, sexual identities, abilities and special needs.
2. Identifying and responding to the impact of climate change and environmental degradation, human migration and displacement on NCD risk, prevention, detection, diagnosis, treatment, management rehabilitation, governance or health care system organization.

3. Understanding the determinants, or efforts to prevent, detect, diagnose, treat or manage NCDs that may change across the human lifespan.
4. Identifying and implementing multi-morbidity, multi-disciplinary and/or cross geographic solutions by working and sharing methods, data, technologies, knowledge, perspectives, practices and policies.
5. New research, perspectives, theories, policies, technologies (Artificial Intelligence, Machine Language (AI/ML), Big Data, and telemedicine), or practices which may enhance our ability to better address the etiology/determinants, detection, diagnosis, treatment, and/or management of NCDs.
6. Improving governance, health system organization, multi-lateral collaboration and knowledge exchange to reduce the global, regional, national or local impact of NCDs.

All accepted abstracts will be published in the International Journal of Noncommunicable Diseases. Submissions will be reviewed on a continuous basis, with the goal of informing an author of acceptance within 30 days of submission. The deadline for abstract submission is February 1, 2023.

A limited number of Student Travel Awards will be available for top ranked abstracts from Canadian and from Low and Middle-Income countries. More information can be found on the Abstracts page on our website.

Spread the word using #WNCD2023 and please forward this notice to your network and colleagues who might be interested in what the Congress has to offer.

We look forward to receiving your abstract and seeing you in Toronto in June, 2023!

Sincerely
